REBELS HEAD TO BORDER

ARE DESTROYING THE MEXICO NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

Wandering Over the Plains Somewhere Between the Casas Grandes and the American Border, Are a Hundred Americans.

Juarez, Mexico, Aug. 5.—General Salazar, the rebel leader responsible for the dismantling of the American colonists, is heading for the border with his 1,000 rebels. On his way Salazar is destroying the Mexico Northwestern railway. In this way he hopes to delay pursuit by the two federal armies which temporarily pocketed him at Casas Grandes.
The on-coming insurgents will join their chief, Pascual Orozco, who, with about 600 men, remains here. Salazar's arrival at Juarez would combine practically all of the rebels operating in Chihuahua, and the next problem would be to proceed successfully into Sonora, the border state to the west, where other rebel groups are operating. On account of the scarcity of the water supply the trip directly along the international line is almost impossible.
The northern movement of Salazar's forces has not been agreeable to American capital.
The northwestern railway, which will be destroyed, is a Canadian and American owned road of the Pearson corporation. It was reported that the rebels had made a demand on the Pearson Lumber Company for $100,- 000, with the threat that they
